Cost of Total War Brought Home With Two Announcements

Doubled Taxes, Food Rationing Planned in Washington

(By The Associated Press)

Washington, Feb. 3.—The cost of fighting a total war was brought home to the public today with a treasury official's prediction that individual taxes might be doubled and the announcement that rationing of canned foods will start March 1.

Emphasizing war's toll on the home front, Senator Bankhead (D-Ala.) expressed belief that an acute food shortage was at hand and government food authorities reported that butter will become scarcer before the supply increases in the spring. A housewife will be lucky, they said, if she can find a quarter of a pound on her grocer's shelves.

Cheering news came from one quarter, however, as the Capital awaited further reports on another big naval battle in the Solomons. Chairman Donald M. Nelson of the War Production Board disclosed that the nation's arms production increased 14 per cent on a dollar basis, in December.

Warplane production rose 20 per cent and the output of tanks, artillery and other ground ordnance jumped 25 per cent. Nelson said 5,489 planes, 667 more than in November were delivered to the armed services and the nation's allies during the month.

Taxes from Individuals
Discussing proposals for pay-as-you-go collection of income taxes before the house ways and means committee, Randolph Paul, treasury department counsel, recalled that the president's budget message requested a $16,000,000,000 increase in taxes and compulsory loans during the fiscal year of 1944. He added:

"Practically all of this $16,000,000,000 increase in collections will have to be derived from individuals in the final analysis, whatever form the levies take. . . . Clearly, carrying the president's budget message into effect will mean partial or complete doubling of payments for individual taxpayers generally."

The Office of Price Administration's order inaugurating the rationing of canned fruits and vegetables on March 1 halted all sales of such canned goods after midnight Feb. 20 until rationing begins. This was done, OPA explained, to give grocers a chance to prepare for rationing and give housewives an opportunity to register for their new ration books.

Goods will be rationed on a point basis, with 48 points allotted to each individual, regardless of age, for the month of March.

The long dormant Pacific front has flamed again into grim, terrible battle. Warships and warplanes have been in action from the Aleutians almost to the tropic of Capricorn in another round of the contest for mastery of the Pacific and its archipelagos. Not since attempts against our outposts in June, which resulted in their defeat off Midway, has the action been of such wide extent.

Secretary Knox says that the sea and air clashes in the Solomons area still represent a "process of feeling out on both sides" but they may prove to be the prelude to the greatest battle of the entire war in the Pacific.

The series of sea and air fights which our Navy says have been in progress for several days may prove to be the greatest battle of the entire war in the Pacific.

It is obvious that the Japanese are prepared to throw a great concentration of sea and air power against our foothold in the Solomons and the line of bases to the south and east. Clearly they are prepared to gamble heavily for a victory which would enable them to recover Guadalcanal and resume the island-to-island advance which was interrupted when the Marines landed there last August. That interruption threw their whole master plan of Pacific strategy out of gear. The high command at Tokyo, in which the admirals have great influence, evidently is convinced that if only the communications between the vast American arsenal and the Australian base of operations can be cut the task of holding the "greater East Asia co-prosperity sphere" will be greatly simplified.

If the Japanese can not do that they face almost certain defeat in the end, since, without the tremendous geographical advantage

Reunion

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 3.—(AP)—James and Claude Armstrong, brothers in the Navy, are in the same naval hospital at Coco Solo, Canal zone, but they didn't find it out until the folks at home told them.

Each of the brothers wrote to the family, telling of his confinement, and inquiring for news of the other brother. Both were notified promptly to speed the reunion.

Tentative Schedule Shows How 19 Pct. Withholding Tax Would Work

Washington.—(AP)—In order to allow for marital and dependency exemptions and other deductions allowed under the income tax law, the treasury has drawn up a tentative schedule of weekly exemptions to expedite the operation of its proposed 19 per cent income tax withholding system.

For a single person the weekly exemption proposed is $11, for a married person, $26, and for each additional dependent, $8.

Allowing for these exemptions here 'show the 19 per cent withholding plan would affect your weekly pay check if adopted:

If your salary is $40 a week, there would be withheld by your employer:

Married, no dependents, $2.66 (19 per cent of $14, which is the amount subject to the withholding tax after $26 exemption).

Married, one dependent, $1.14

Coastal Junction of Axis Forces in Africa Threatened

Yankee Combat Force Digs In After Taking Seneed Yesterday

Allied Headquarters in North Africa, Feb. 3.—(AP)—An American combat force captured Seneed yesterday and has dug in a mile east of the town on the rail line to Maknassy and the Tunisian east coast, it was announced today.

Their wedge there, if developed, might seriously harass the coastal junction of axis forces.

An allied spokesman said the American combat team originally had planned to withdraw, making the thrust to Seneed only a raid, but actually was holding its advanced position beyond the village.

It is along the Gatsa-Mahares rail line 20 miles west of Maknassy, which is only 33 miles from the coastal road which the axis must hold if Marshal Rommel is to join General von Arnim in a solid axis stand.

Capture of Seneed was announced in a communique yesterday, but a spokesman said then the operation was only a raid and

Destroyer Defeats Three Enemy Ships

San Francisco, February 3.—(AP)—An American destroyer, caught unexpectedly in a ring of Japanese warships, sank an enemy destroyer and a cruiser and delivered the coup de grace to a battleship, it became known today.

The almost incredible exploit of the tiny craft was learned by the Examiner and confirmed by the 12th Naval District.

The district said the Japanese losses already had been reported by the Navy but not previously credited to a single destroyer. The scene and time of the action and the name of the destroyer was withheld for reasons of security.

The destroyer sailed inadvertently into the range of the three Jap ships when an order to change course failed to reach her.

The skipper loomed over the situation and said:

"We'll be in here, so let's keep going—and keep going and keep firing until they sink us or we shoot our way the hell out of here."

Big, New Pacific Battle Near

Stalingrad Siege Lifted After 162 Days of Battling

Nazi Defeat Complete; Red Troops Released for Other Fronts

Moscow, Feb. 3.—(AP)—Premier Stalin congratulated the Red army today for liquidation of the last of Adolf Hitler's troops at Stalingrad and soviet shock units flushed with this greatest victory of the war over Germany plunged ahead on all fronts.

The soviet information bureau announced late yesterday that the 162-day siege of Stalingrad was ended.

More than 500,000 of the cream of axis soldiery were reported to have been slain or captured at that Volga Verdun since the Russian winter offensive was launched Nov. 19—275,000 killed and 228,650 imprisoned.

Seasoned Red army divisions were freed to reinforce the offensives from the North Caucasus to Kursk.

Complete capitulation of all surviving axis troops and their generals in the Stalingrad area led Stalin, the supreme commander, to message Marshal N. N. Voronov, representative of the supreme command, and Col. Gen. Constantin Rokossovsky, field commander, the following:

Stalin's Message
"I congratulate you and the troops of the Don front for successful achievement of the liquidation of enemy troops surrounded at Stalingrad. I hereby express my gratitude to all fighters, commanders and political workers on the front for the excellent battle operations."

No special ceremonies marked the conquest. All over Moscow, it was business as usual. But millions scrambled eagerly for newspapers giving the details.

"Of course it is very great news," said a Russian friend of mine. "It cheers the heart of every soviet citizen, but—and I hope you won't think me immodest—we expected it."

Newspapers said among 91,000

Appropriation for Welfare Institutions Blocked by Democrats

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 3.—(AP)—Democratic senators, seeking prompt settlement of election contests involving four of their number, dealt the Republican state administration its first setback of the month-old legislative session today by blocking passage of a $5,650,000 deficiency appropriation for 22 state welfare institutions.

Needing 34 votes to pass with an emergency two-thirds majority, the bill received only 26 votes as the Democrats sat silent on roll call. Republicans charged during the debate that Democrats wanted to make a "deal" for disposition of the contests, in return for their support of this and other pending deficiency appropriations.

Lieut. Governor Hugh W. Cross prior to the vote asserted the appropriation was "necessary to feed and care for the thousands of unfortunate in our charitable institutions" during the last six months of the current biennium.

Carry On for Five Missing Sailors

Washington, Feb. 3.—(AP)—Chins up and courage high, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas F. Sullivan of Waterloo, Iowa, told Vice President Henry Wallace today they were carrying on as their five missing sailor sons "would want us to do."

Beginning a tour of war plants in the hope their fortitude in their time of sorrow might inspire workers to maximum production efforts, the Sullivans were wished "Godspeed" by Wallace after an earlier call on Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Death of Sterling Soldier in Crash Told by Hauglund

(Editor's Note: Last August the crew and passenger of a distressed U. S. Army plane flying from Australia to New Guinea took to their parachutes and the passenger, Vern Hauglund, Associated Press war correspondent, wandered 43 days in jungles before getting back to civilization.)

(One who maintained optimism that he would be found was the pilot, Lieut. Duncan Seffern, who reached an allied base after a 20-day jungle trek.)

(Hauglund not only survived the ordeal but went back to duty and, by a twist of fate, unwittingly witnessed the death of Lieut. Seffern and six other American airmen in a crash. His story follows.)

By VERN HAUGLUND
Somewhere in New Guinea, Jan. 13.—(Delayed)—(AP)—Two top-notch Marauder pilots, Lieut. Robert Hatch of Wilmington, N. C., and Lieut. Duncan Seffern of Manawa, Wis., were killed with five other American airmen when a B-26 starting out with them and several others for Australia crashed on the take-off.

There was a twist of irony to their deaths because together they had survived many dangerous combat missions—only to die on what virtually was a civilian flight.

Other victims of the crash included: Sergt. Peter McGinn of Sterling, Ill.

The crash occurred Jan. 10, the day after I arrived here, but the announcement was withheld pending notification of the fliers' next-of-kin.

I watched the spectacular flames of the wrecked plane from a mile away, unaware that Lieut. Hatch and Seffern, my especial friends, were aboard.

Lieut. Seffern long had served as Hatch's co-pilot and I was Seffern's passenger on his first piloting trip. That was last Aug. 7 when we got lost in a storm in eastern Papua and all bailed out.

Lieut. Seffern told me later that time was the first time the entire crew bailed out of a B-26. Previously Marauder pilots remained with their ship and attempted a crash landing.

Extreme Cruelty Is Charged in Complaint

Mrs. Mae E. Sheahan of this city has filed a suit for divorce and application for an injunction in the Lee county Circuit court, charging Raymond J. Sheahan with extreme and repeated cruelty. The couple were married in St. Louis, Mo., Dec. 26, 1941.

Citing allegations to prove her charges of cruelty, the bill recites that on last New Years night in a tavern at Sandwich, the husband threw a glass of beer over the plaintiff after he had become abusive and insulting, which act caused her great humiliation and discomfort. At their home in Dixon at 5:30 o'clock in the morning on last Fourth of July the complaint states that Sheahan became enraged when he arrived and found a shopping bag hanging on the door, and proceeded to administer a severe beating to his wife. On a third occasion on Jan. 30 of this year, the complaint alleges that Sheahan knocked her down on Sixth street, then dragged her along the icy street.

The injunction, which was granted by Judge George C. Dixon, restrains Sheahan from striking, beating, annoying or otherwise injuring the plaintiff; restrains him from talking to her at her place of employment or from entering her home at 805 Sixth street, and from disposing of any of the property.

Police Seek Motive for Strangulation of Child by Nurse Maid

Cincinnati, Feb. 3.—(AP)—Police today turned to psychology in an attempt to find a motive for the strangulation of 29-month-old Gail Marie Bradner, only child of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bradner.

Major John Seeborn, inspector of police, said a "strangled" doll was discovered in a kitchen chair in the room adjacent to the one where police found the garroted body of the blonde, blue-eyed child. The doll also was blonde, and the noose around its neck was similar to that used in the slaying.

Miss Anna Marie Teal, 31, a former mental patient, walked into Central police station yesterday and said, "I have killed a child."

Detective Chief Emmett D. Kirgan said Miss Teal was confined in a hospital in 1942, a victim of dementia praecox, a form of insanity.

Police said she told them Mrs. Bradner placed the baby in Miss Teal's charge as she left for her first day of work as a waitress.

Can Opener Yields to Cook Book Feb. 20th. at Midnight

Rationing of Canned and Dried Food Will Start on March 1

BULLETIN

Washington, Feb. 3.—(AP)—The Office of Price Administration today reduced the next coffee ration from one pound every five weeks to one pound every

Washington, Feb. 3.—(AP)—The can opener will yield to the cook book after midnight Feb. 20.

From that time until March 1, when rationing starts, there will be no canned fruits or vegetables sold.

Frozen fruits and vegetables, dried fruits (not dried vegetables), and canned soups and canned baby foods also are included in the order, issued yesterday by the Office of Price Administration.

With the armed forces and lend-lease taking, in some categories, half of the canned goods put up, the government has ordered rationing to assure everyone a fair share.

Fresh fruits and vegetables will not be rationed, and one of the goals of the program will be to compel people to do more real cooking and less can-opening. Home canning also will be encouraged because such goods will not be counted against ration coupons.

Rationing will be by points, 48 points per person in the month of March, regardless of age or occupation.

Restaurants and other public eating places will be limited on canned goods but under present plans, will not collect ration coupons from their customers.

Must Plan Month Ahead
To help consumers, one big problem will be that of planning a month ahead. For instance, at 48 points per person, a family of three will have 144 points to spend in March.

Each can, bottle or package on the new ration list will have a "point value"—perhaps 10 points for a medium size can of peas, 7 points for a can of spinach, 8 points for a half-pound package of raisins, etc. These figures are only examples. The real list of values

100 Block-Busters Rained on Cologne

London, Feb. 3.—(AP)—A heavy force of RAF bombers last night attacked Cologne, Rhineland industrial center, dropping 100 two-ton block-buster bombs on an average of one every 12 seconds or less and scattering thousands of incendiaries in the exploding ruins.

It was the 112th raid on the city which last May was the first German center to feel the weight of a 1,000-plane raid in a single night. The principal targets include the factories which turn out Diesel engines and batteries for submarines.

The foray was the first against Cologne since last Oct. 15 and the entire load of explosives was dropped in less than 20 minutes.

Five bombers were missing after the raid, an authoritative British announcement said, indicating that a flight of 100 of the RAF's biggest planes made the foray.

Four German Focke-Wulf bombers raided an inland town in south-east England in daylight today, flattening many buildings and causing numerous casualties, including some killed.

A shopping center was hit and many persons were trapped in the ruins.

Oil, Gasoline, Kerosene, Etc., in Same Pipeline Without Being Mixed

Baltimore, Feb. 3.—(AP)—Ever hear the one about the pipelines that deliver oil, gasoline, kerosene and four or five other such items cross-country in the same pipe without getting them all mixed up?

Well, it isn't a tall tale. And it should be mighty good news for a lot of shivering eastern seaboards, not to mention motorists, for one of those pipelines is on the way.

Henry E. Dralle, head of the petroleum and chemical engineering section, Westinghouse Electric & Manufacturing Company, told Maryland engineers that the new war emergency line under construction from Texas to New York will do as much work as 85 tankers continuously plying the Atlantic coast.

Brutal Slaying of Chicago Model in Apartment Mystery

Chicago, Feb. 3.—(AP)—Men friends in the life of a comely Titian-haired model and night club habitue were questioned by police today to aid them in untangling the mystery shrouding her brutal slaying in her north side apartment yesterday.

The bruised and slashed body of the attractive 31-year-old woman, Miss Estelle Evelyn Carey, was found by firemen who forced their way into her fire-scarred apartment.

The slayer had beaten her, slashed her throat, and then, investigators theorized, attempted to burn her body to conceal his crime. Firemen found her body lying in a corner of the dining room of her well-furnished, four-room apartment. There were five cuts and severe bruises on her face; her left eye was cut; her nose broken, and her lips smashed. Her feet and legs were badly burned and her clothing—a slip and house dress—was nearly scorched from her body.

Blood Stains Found
Investigators said there were bloodstains on the kitchen cabinet and sink, while on the kitchen floor they said they found a blood stained bread knife, a blood spat-

Only Fifteen

Peoria, Ill., Feb. 3.—(AP)—Norman E. Gibbs, Marine Corps private announced killed in action by the Navy, was only 15 years old, his mother, Mrs. Rachel E. Gibbs disclosed today.

The youth was born June 21, 1927, his mother said, and "fibbed about his age" when he enlisted in the Marines at the Peoria recruiting office Dec. 15, 1941—eight days after Pearl Harbor—when he was but 14 years old.

"I knew he was enlisting and not telling the truth about his age but he was so anxious to get in that I didn't have the heart to stop him," Mrs. Gibbs said.

Naval Forces Feel Each Other Out in Solomon Sea Fight

Indicates Japs Seek To Regain Control of Entire Area

Washington, Feb. 3.—(AP)—Secretary of the Navy Knox described a sea battle in progress off the Solomon islands today as "a process of feeling out on both sides," but said there is "no really pitched battle as yet."

Nobody knows yet what the immediate future holds, but any assumption in a Navy communique last night that there is a major battle underway, Knox told a press conference, is incorrect.

The communique reported that "increased activity on the part of the Japanese indicates a major effort to regain control of the entire Solomons area." It also asserted that both United States and Japanese forces had suffered losses.

"It is not true," Knox said, "that a great big fight is going on. There are a lot of preliminary dispositions and preliminary moves. But there is no really pitched battle as yet."

He asserted that the Japanese, in making reports of a sea battle in the Solomons area, were "on a fishing expedition" and, replying to inquiries about the extent of the fighting, cited the communique and declared, "You'll have to be satisfied with that."

"Tough Fight Ahead"
Knox added that in the Solomons area, generally, "There is a long, tough, hard fight ahead of us."

Of Guadalcanal itself, with its all-important Henderson airfield, Knox said "We're in complete possession and control; we completely dominate the Guadalcanal area."

He displayed on a map the battle areas on Guadalcanal, saying United States forces hold two per cent of the island's area and the Japanese one-half of one per cent—the only parts of the island involved in the ground fighting.

Replying to comments in Australia that he might have been too optimistic, the secretary said he felt that after personally viewing conditions he was in a better position to judge the situation than "anonymous spokesmen" in Australia.

Outcome in Doubt
The outcome of the sea-air crucial fight, which may mark the crucial point in a long struggle for control of the south Pacific archipelago, remained in doubt here but the Navy said both sides have suffered losses.

In a communique late yesterday the Navy explained details were withheld because their disclosure at this time would affect adversely future operations in the area.

A Navy spokesman asserted, however, that Japanese claims of having sunk two battleships and three cruisers and of having damaged another battleship and cruiser were "grossly exaggerated." At the same time he described as an understatement the Japs' claim of having lost only 10 planes.

While the limits of the battle zone were not clearly defined, the Navy said that the extent and fury of the Japanese actions indicated a concerted new effort to regain control of the southeast Solomons had been undertaken. A Tokyo report broadcast Monday fixed the scene of one action as the vicinity of Rennell island, about 100 miles south of Guadalcanal, but that was without confirmation.

The Japanese said the Rennell engagement was fought Friday and Saturday, but this too lacked confirmation, information from American sources being only that a series of air and sea fights had been under way for several days.

MacArthur's Planes Aid
Reports from Australia indicated that Gen. Douglas MacArthur's planes were taking part in the battle by raiding enemy bases on New Britain island.

Until the direction of the Japanese moves becomes more definitely known, authorities said, their immediate strategy cannot be determined. Their general purpose undoubtedly is to maneuver into positions that heavy reinforcements can be delivered to their beleaguered troops on Guadalcanal.

The latest battle is the seventh of the Solomons campaign, which began with American invasion of the Guadalcanal-Tulagi area Aug. 7. Of the previous six, however, only three involved forces proportionate in size to the indicated

Briton Promises Himself a Treat When War Is Over

A letter from a cousin, George W. Redihelgh, England to Mrs. Eustace E. Shaw of Dixon says in part:

"I am sure you are all pulling your own weights in America. Most of our business here is now given over to the war effort and our factories are now concentrating on munitions, etc. In most other cases staffs are very depleted and the shops, stores, etc. are carrying on as best they can with older hands, and in some cases half time workers.

"Of course stocks are lower and the demand is governed by the rationing system: a coat or raincoat (women's) 14 coupons; jacket or short coat, 11 coupons; woolen dress, gown, etc., 11 coupons, and so on. So you have to plan things out a bit, as you have underclothing, etc. to arrange for out of your coupon book for the year (60 coupons). Then we have a sweets (chocolate, etc.) ration. This amounts to 3 1/2 lb. per month at present. We are getting along very nicely with the food problem and if we don't always get exactly what we want we are learning to do without what we can't get and substitute something else.

Promises Self Treat

"It is really surprising how you can cut out things that you have been accustomed to having and how you can manage with just a little less. When the war is over and things become normal again I am afraid we shall go off the deep end. I have promised myself a good steak and chips to celebrate with and perhaps a few other things.

With the Wind". Have you seen it? It is all about the southern states and is the most beautiful film I have ever seen. Mrs. Roosevelt is a wonderful woman and had a very hectic time here. It was hardly possible to keep pace with her progress—she was here, there and all over, I think your name for it is hustling. She certainly saw a good deal of Britain's war effort and I hope she was impressed with it.

"Things have been quiet in the air here lately. Jerry seems to have enough on his plate elsewhere, but of course our A. R. P. are constantly on the alert and we do not expect he has forgotten us and we are ready, just in case.

"I have not got a motor car now, it is not worth while. A friend of mine uses his car for business purposes—he is limited to 9 gallons per month of petrol—this is a 14 HP car. This will take him about 180 miles a month, I suppose.

"If you have a car laid up you have to make a return of all tires you have on the car or in stock. The government can take them if they want them. So I shall wait until the war is over and then if there is any petrol left, I shall buy another. We are all collecting our scraps, etc., old paper, bones, rags, tins and the lead tooth paste cases."

Grain News

Chicago, Feb. 3.—(AP)—Agricultural economists of the University of Illinois advised farmers to consider liquidation of their wheat loans as this usually is the highest season of the year for wheat prices and because the government is selling soft winter wheat from loan stocks at $1.55 a bushel, Chicago and St. Louis basis.

Commenting on the wheat market, one large Chicago house said, "If both prices and basis ease off further it will likely again result in reduced marketings as there is not very much incentive to redeem and market loan wheat at this level."

Stocks of wheat in Kansas interior mills, elevators and warehouses on Jan. 1 were estimated at 30,000,000 bushels, the largest for the date in nine years. Present stocks are about 14 per cent larger than the 26,300,000 bushels reported a year ago and are 132 per cent larger than the 1935-41 average of 12,929,000 bushels.

A. J. Surratt of the department of agriculture reported that on Jan. 15, the average of prices received by Illinois farmers for their products was 20 per cent higher than a year ago, 60 per cent higher than two years ago and 83 per cent higher than three years ago.

TO SAVE CARIBOU

Fairbanks, Alaska — (AP) — Seeking to prevent caribou going the way of the buffalo, the Alaska game commission is paying special attention to "caribou crossings" on Alaska's few highways. Agents reported that easy hunting near such a crossing resulted in 57 killings in two days, eight of the animals being shot only for sport and left to rot.

If You Miss Your Paper Call
Melvin Watson

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph L. Booth of Clinton, Iowa, are announcing the marriage of their daughter Lucille to Floyd Frizzell of Dixon, Saturday, January 23rd. The Rev. John Smith, rector of St. Mary's church in Sterling, read the vows.

The couple were attended by Mr. and Mrs. Walter Meighan of Sterling. The bride's dress was of powder blue with dark brown accessories. For "something borrowed" she wore a strand of pearls belonging to her friend, Mrs. Joseph Draste of Rock Falls, and a corsage of white carnations.

The groom is well known having lived on a farm south of town and attended the local high school and graduated with the class of 1938. Mrs. Frizzell attended school in Clinton, Iowa. They will reside in Sterling.

Meeting at Schoolhouse

The second meeting of the adult evening school will be held on Thursday evening, Feb. 4 at 8 o'clock in the agriculture room of the high school. The questions to be discussed will be: "How efficient are we as Producers?" "What are our difficulties, and what can we do about them?" Also a little interesting thing—information about seed corn. The first meeting was held January 28th. The subjects "Shall we raise more pigs in 1943?" and "What can we substitute for animal proteins?" Also a little interesting material on "Don't let it destroy your 1943 corn crop—the corn borer".

There was a good attendance and a very interesting discussion. It seems like most farmers have plenty of questions to ask, so bring them along Thursday night. If you have some labor saving device, bring it along and let everyone know about it.

Lovely Service

Sunday was observed as Young People's Sunday in the Presbyterian church. The morning service was in charge of the Tuxis, with the following program:

Prelude, Tuxis orchestra, composed of Rev. Montanus, Leo Montanus, Neil Montanus, Misses Vivian Miller, Marie Black, Eunice Miller and Miss Bell.

Opening sentence was given by the president, Mary Jane Norris, which was followed by the doxology by the congregation; Jeanette Myers gave the invocation. Responsive reading was led by Betty Bemis; hymn, "Stand Up, Stand Up for Jesus"; Alberta Benodt gave the scripture reading, which was followed by a violin solo by Miss Bell, accompanied by June Group. Rev. Carl Montanus offered the prayer. The announcements were made by Neil Montanus. Offering and prayer, Neil Montanus, Frank Meyers and Maurice Heckman; a special number by the Tuxis girls' sextette, composed of Marie Black, June Group, Vivian Miller, Eunice Miller, Alberta Benodt and Rosemary Peterman, accompanied by Rev. Montanus, favored at this time. The message of the morning was given by the pastor, Rev. Montanus. At the close of the sermon, Miss Eunice Miller, in behalf of the Tuxis, presented the church framed pictures of former pastors, as follows:

Roger F. Cressey, May 4, 1898-June 29, 1901; W. J. Manifold, Nov. 16, 1902-Oct. 1904; T. E. Stevens, Nov. 1, 1904-Sept. 13, 1908; Alexander English, Nov. 1, 1909-Nov. 1, 1912; R. L. McWherter, March 27, 1918-Dec. 1, 1920; M. T. McPherson, Sept. 20, 1921-July 1, 1923; Thomas London Jones, Jan. 1, 1924-March 31, 1933; C. P. Blecking, May 1, 1933-Dec. 1, 1936; F. Louis Grafton, April 1, 1937-Sept. 1, 1941; H. Carl Montanus, Nov. 1, 1941. These pictures will be hung in the main church room. The services closed by singing "Faith of Our Fathers" and the benediction.

Appointed Chaplain

The Rev. H. P. Hilbish, pastor of the Episcopal church of the Good Samaritan in Oak Park, has announced his appointment as chaplain in the civil aeronautics patrol. His appointment is the first of its kind. Rev. Hilbish is a former resident of this place and was principal of the local high school. He will serve Illinois Wing No. 61 with the rank of captain. He recently completed his basic training in flying meteorology and navigation. Both Mr. and Mrs. Hilbish are well known here.

Elect Officers

The seventh and eighth grades have elected new officers for their book club, as follows:

President, Edna Benodt; vice president, Lucille Anderson; secretary, Jane Siemens; librarians, Dotty Hussey and George Holley. Plans were made for the Valentine party. The new president appointed the following committees: Decorations—Lucille Anderson, chairman; Don Baker and Catherine Bemis. Refreshments—Dorothy Bartlett, chairman; Edna Nelson, Jean Hoy. Entertainment—Audra Miller, chairman; Gavin Spangler and Ramona Near.

Obituary

Ezra Withey, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. George Withey, was born Feb. 28, 1872 north of town and died Jan. 21, 1943 at Tacoma, Wash. Funeral services were held Saturday afternoon at the Hicks funeral home. Rev. O. D. Buck had charge of the services. Mrs. Russell Group sang two hymns, accompanied by Mrs. Hicks. Mr. Withey is survived by his son Roy C. of Chicago; and a brother, Henry, of this place. He was preceded in death by his wife, a daughter, Bessie; two sisters, Mrs. Grace Orenner and Mrs. Clara Kohl. Burial was in the Franklin Grove cemetery. Casket bearers were: Charles Howard, Will Phillips, J. T. Gilbert, E. L. Lott, L. A. Trottnow, R. C. Gross.

A Lovely Evening

The directors of the Franklin Grove Community high school and the grade school and their wives entertained the high school faculty members and their wives and the teachers of the grade school and their wives and husbands in the gym Friday night. Invited guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Blocher, Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Durkes, Mr. and Mrs. Ira Buck, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Shoemaker. Fred Gross acted as chairman and presented the following program:

Superintendent Dillon, who made a few remarks and then introduced the teachers. Mr. Gross introduced the directors. Miss Martha Bell favored with a violin solo accompanied by Jackie Canode; Miss Doris Howard rendered a vocal solo. After the program buncos and hearts were played. At buncos, Mrs. Ira Buck won high for ladies and Mr. Buck high for gentlemen; at hearts, Mrs. Laverne Baker won high for ladies and Leland Blocher high for men. At the close of the evening lovely refreshments were served.

Attended Funeral

Those from a distance who were here to attend the funeral of Ezra Withey Saturday afternoon were Mr. and Mrs. Roy C. Withey and daughter of Chicago; Mr. and Mrs. Otto Boyenga and Herman Kohl of Oregon; and Miss Barbara Kohl of Dixon.

Thimble Club

The Thimble club held their January meeting at the home of the president, Mrs. Helen Colwell. It was an all day meeting with a lovely scramble dinner at noon. About twenty were present. The afternoon was spent in social visiting and sewing.

Mr. and Mrs. Eldon Wilson and twins Carol and Carl of Rockford spent the week end in the home of his mother Mrs. Florence Wilson and her parents Mr. and Mrs. Carl Blum.

W. C. T. U.

The W. C. T. U. met on Friday, January 29, at the home of Mrs. Margaret Hicks. The meeting opened with singing of "America". Devotions were led by Mrs. Anna S. Buck, using part of Matthew 5, as the Scripture. Roll call responses were items from the Watchtower, the state W. C. T. U. paper of Illinois.

The business session followed, with minutes of the last meeting read by the secretary, and reports of other officers. It was voted to double the usual contribution to the Lillian Stevens Fund, and the treasurer was instructed to send in the amount at once. This fund, contributed by Unions all over the nation, is used to maintain an office in Washington, D. C., in charge of a member known as the National W. C. T. U. Legislative Director. Her duties are to study all proposed bills in Congress which are of special significance concerning matters of general Welfare and to inform the public concerning their content, significance, and progress in Congress.

If any, A full-page "Washington Letter" in the Union Signal is edited by this Director each week and is of great value to all interested in each legislation. For several years this office was held by Dr. Izora Scott, who resigned some time ago because of ill health, and has since died. She was succeeded by Miss Elizabeth A. Smart, who is filling the office most capably.

The program for the day was in charge of Mrs. S. L. Cover, and was a resume of the address given at the National W. C. T. U. convention in Birmingham, Alabama last October, by the National President, Mrs. Ida B. Wise Smith.

Mrs. Smith is a very lovely and talented woman, fully devoted to the highest welfare of the youth of the nation. Her address on "Faith, Hope, and Victory" was most helpful and inspiring, full of interesting, stirring and spiritual instruction for the entire organization.

The meeting closed with prayer by the president, and the group separated to their various homes.

Fuchsia plants were named in honor of Leannard Fuchs.

Sales Tax Accounts for 31 Cents of All Revenue of Illinois

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 3—(AP)—The retailers occupation (sales) tax accounted for 31.25 cents out of each dollar state treasury receipts during the 1942 fiscal year despite a reduction in the rate from three to two per cent.

The next largest revenue producer was the motor fuel tax, which accounted for 17.5 cents, a report of the state finance department showed today. Motor vehicle drivers' and chauffeurs' licenses brought in 10 cents, and liquor gallonage and license fees contributed nine cents of each dollar.

Federal payments for old age assistance totaled 11.5 cents and receipts from taxes on cigarettes, public utilities, corporations, insurance companies, inheritances and miscellaneous other sources accounted for the remaining 20.75 cents of the tax dollar.

It takes a total of perhaps 6000 men to get a 100-plane bombing raid into the air.

A Thought for Today

And said, O my God, I am ashamed and blush to lift up my face to thee, my God; for our iniquities are increased over our head, and our trespass is grown up unto the heavens.—Ezra 9:6.

Here shame dissuades him, there his fear prevails.
And each by turns his aching heart assails.
—Ovid.

Gott and Germany

On recent occasions German spokesmen have made references to the good God, saying He will not permit thus and so to happen, or that he will help the Germans to win. At the same time Americans and others refer constantly to Germany as a God-less country, and to the nazis as heathen.

To understand this seemingly inconsistency it is necessary to trace the processes by which Germany acquired her present reputation.

As soon as Hitler began his campaign against the Jews—which was perhaps even before extensive rearmament began—the nazis thought it wise to get rid of all Semitic influences. Songs by Jewish composers were banned; books by Jews were burned and Jews were thrown out of public offices and the professions. Finally Hitler learned that Christ was born of a Jewish mother. Therefore, it became necessary to oust Christ from the churches.

Now, whenever you try to get the Christian churches to give up Christ you have a battle in prospect. We do not pretend to expound the theology of the thing, but we do know they are very stubborn about it. Hitler may have felt that as long as he was in charge of German affairs, the Germans could get along without Jesus, but the pastors were stiff-necked. That was the cause of one of Hitler's battles with the churches.

Later the argument quieted down a little and it seemed almost as though Hitler was changing his attitude. Presently there were announcements that Christ hadn't been a Jew at all, but rather a genuine Aryan. This didn't bother the churches. They were content to have Hitler put any label he wanted on Christ if only the churches could include Him in their theology.

Then Hitler got into another battle with the churches. The new struggle didn't concern the genealogy of Christ, but rather Christian principles. German churchmen lifted their voices against the nazi gestapo, the executions without trials, the tortures of innocent men and women, the concentration camps—against nazi brutality in general. This sent Adolf on a new rampage. He implied that he had conceded a point in making a full-blooded, 24-karat, 21-jewel Aryan out of Christ—but here was Jesus still poking around in nazi affairs and interfering with the New Order. He wanted the churches to confine Jesus strictly to the salvation of Aryan souls, and not let Him interfere with gross injustices and shocking brutality. The churches retorted that the only way to save Aryan souls was to preach against abuses. Whereupon Hitler and the churches parted company. He sticks a preacher in jail now and then, but the battle goes on.

As late as last Christmas the bishop of Berlin, Conrad Count von Preysing, delivered a blast that fairly rattled Adolf's teeth.

"Present principles," said Bishop Preysing, "have resulted only in misery and woe... Every departure from right and justice will sooner or later be broken against the foundations of God's dominion."

"The life of an innocent individual, be it an unborn child or an old person, is holy and the innocent may not be punished with, or in place of, the guilty..."

"Right is something which must be enforced even against the interest of the individual and the nation... The individual can not and must not be permitted to be completely absorbed by the state or by the nation or by the race."

There was more, all to the same effect. As far as we know, Daniel remains unharmed by the nazis. Conrad Count von Preysing may be a trifle too large for Hitler to tackle. By refusing to abandon Christ the German clergymen have kept Adolf from feeling sure he is God.

Luxuries of War

Although there may be a little off-stage grumbling, most civilians seem to find in the encroaching deprivations of war a Spartan challenge and a stiffening of the moral sinews.

But perhaps we haven't reflected with sufficient gratitude on the comforts of body and spirit that are bequeathed us as other comforts are taken away. For instance, an association of barbers has banished for the duration the scalding suffocation of a hot Turkish towel with your shave. And when you buy a new shirt, it's no longer the treacherous, bristling booby trap of yore. It's now folded with the help of only three pins.

Let us hope that when the peaceful world of tomorrow returns us our old luxuries, it will also include some of these new ones.

How to Tell a Jap

Most of us stay-at-home occidentals have wondered how in the world anybody can distinguish Japanese from Chinese. The Army, in a pocket guide for troops in China, offers suggestions.

The Jap will be short, squat, almost without waistline. Skin lemon yellow, eyes slanted toward his nose, whiskers heavy. Usually there will be a wide calloused space between the first and second toes, where a thong bound his sandals before he began wearing army shoes.

He can't pronounce the letter "I", and hisses the "s". Try him on "lallapaloosa".

Check Those Tires

Motorists have been slow about having their tires checked. Dec. 31 less than one out of four had complied. This has piled a tremendous burden upon the inspection stations for this month.

The OPA says flatly that neither gasoline ration books nor tire replacements will be issued in future to those who do not have their tires inspected by the end of February. There is going to be a grand rush in the last few days. Nobody who has waited this long is wise—but only the really foolish will delay longer.

Better have those tires checked today.

News Behind the News

Washington—The Bronx ex-boss, Edward J. Flynn, withdrew from a diplomatic career for many a reason other than the one announced. Namely, that he wished to avoid a political fight, embarrassing to Mr. Roosevelt, in the senate.

The fight was over. A close tally by a competent senator showed the line-up against Flynn's confirmation to be about 50 to 35, with 11 senators expected to be absent on the roll call.

Flynn was defeated, not by the Republicans, as he publicly proclaimed, but by 10 to 14 Democratic senators. Seven or eight of his own party members already had announced their intentions, and there were three to six more who refused to say how they would vote, but privately had tipped the opposition to count them in. These Democrats furnished the margin of defeat.

The timing of the announcement of opposition by another Democratic city boss, Ed Crump, of Memphis, just a few hours before Flynn backed out has led to a general public assumption that Crump was the giant killer. The tallies show Flynn would have been defeated without the opposition of Crump's two senators, McKellar and Stewart.

The amazing fact that one city machinist wanted to take credit for slaying another in the same party, has caused observers here to look for reasons, in addition to the moral ones Crump stressed in a statement.

One story is that Crump had not been getting much patronage out of the new deal for some time past. But the ones most generally accepted is that Crump was getting even for what the new dealers tried to do to his candidate, Senator Stewart in the last election.

It is said by a senator in a position to know that the administration's so-called "TVA group" and other Roosevelt followers in Tennessee, put Stewart about 18,000 votes behind coming into Memphis. In short, the new deal had defeated Crump in all Tennessee except in his home city. There, Stewart enjoyed such amazing popularity—or something—that he was able to amass a lead of 35,000 and win the state as a whole.

Crump is now even for that one. Most tearful pathos of the whole event, however, lay in the peculiar manner in which Flynn was even squeezed into resigning as Democratic national committeeman during the senate fight.

He had resigned as national chairman and was proudly accepting the ambassadorship to Australia, but he did not intend to let his old comrade, (now enemy) Jim Farley, get hands on the important New York committee post. Farley's state committee would name the successor, and deep shudders would have run down through the Bronx organization.

But certain Democratic senators here professed great interest in the Hatch act, the new law which attempts in a very restrained way to keep public office holders from holding political jobs on the side.

The Flynn nomination as ambassador was then in the senate foreign relations committee, and these Hatch act adherents were threatening to vote against Flynn unless he resigned the national committee post as well as the chairmanship. They were very serious about the point, or seemed to be.

So Flynn had to resign hurriedly from the committee and take the bitter medicine of letting Farley name his successor, in order to get his ambassador nomination out of the senate foreign relations committee. This he did barely by a margin of 13 to 10 (two senators, the two particularly interested in the Hatch act, would have changed the result.)

After he had been shed of all his political raiment and left like a bare waif it became apparent that the Australian cut-away coat was to be denied him. Ah, such naked woe. He lost everything.

This complete job of rooking Flynn, seemed inspired, in the main, by the revulsion of the senate majority against the naming of a city boss to a high diplomatic war post. The vote would have been about the same if Crump had been named ambassador to England.

The substantial opposition also seemed to think (and said in private) that the defeat of Flynn would bring a salutary national effect by expressing the new independence of congress and its decision no longer to be a rubber stamp.

The paving block incident and the other specific charges against Flynn apparently made little or no difference. Senators were amused by Flynn's exceptional

Meat and Romance Will Be Shown at Red Brick School

Citizens of the Red Brick school district will view a showing of the sound motion picture, Meat and Romance, produced for the National Livestock and Meat Board, a non-profit organization, representing the entire livestock and meat industry, at the school Friday, February 5th at 7:30 o'clock.

This motion picture is the result of collaboration between authorities in the meat and live stock industries and the United States Bureau of Home Economics in Washington.

The claim is made that the entire subject of meat, its values and costs according to cuts, the proper methods of its cooking, of its serving and carving, as well as its relative nutritional properties, has never been so thoroughly or so convincingly covered in any one presentation.

This sound picture, partly in color, is as entertaining as it is instructive. It tells the story of a young married couple who solve the problem of meal planning and of making the food dollar go farther. Judicious buying and varying the meat courses of the dinner, all with economy, are highlighted.

Much misinformation about meat is corrected with authoritative support. Audiences receive the benefit of the best advice about the cooking of meat the relative merits of low and high temperature cooking, the variances required for different types and cuts of meat for best results.

The place of meat in the diet of infants and young children is also well covered. Women will enjoy the sections that explain how they may retain their figures without starving themselves. Men will delight in the portions that demonstrate proper methods of the arduous task of carving.

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Schade will also show pictures taken on their trip abroad.

Will Seek 150,000 Tons of Scrap Metal on Illinois Farms

Chicago, Feb. 3.—A spring drive for 150,000 tons of metal scrap from Illinois farms will be launched at a meeting to be held at Springfield on March 7, Lieut. Gov. Hugh W. Cross, chairman of the conservation committee, Illinois State Council of Defense, said today.

The meeting will be addressed by Gov. Green, the lieutenant governor, and the Rt. Rev. Msgr. David L. Scully of Springfield, Sangamon county salvage committee member. Scrap dealers, implement dealers, officials of the agricultural administration WPB, and members of the state council's salvage committee are expected to attend.

Lieut. Gov. Cross said the general campaign for scrap will continue with special stress on the drive among farmers.

Fair Enough by WESTBROOK PEGLER

Washington—It appears from some of the utterances of Vice President Wallace and Joseph E. Davies, who served a spell as our ambassador to soviet Russia, that these men take a not unpleasant and trustful view of Russian Communism and would like to sell the American people a bill of goods.

What they are up to I cannot guess, for Wallace is said to be a deeply religious man and Davies is a major-league capitalist both in his own right and by marriage. For conflicting opinions I take you to the files.

When Adolf Hitler broke his treaty with Joseph Stalin and attacked Russia on June 21, 1941, Winston Churchill took to their chair at once with a promise of material, financial and military aid to the soviet government because any enemy of Hitler was a friend of Britain's.

Nevertheless, as one who has often written vigorous opinions of Communism in the past, he was compelled to say also:

"The nazi regime is indistinguishable from the worst features of Communism. It is devoid of all theme and principle except appetite and racial domination. No one has been a more consistent opponent of Communism than I have for the last 25 years. I will unsay no words that I have spoken against it."

On Dec. 1, 1939, President Roosevelt denounced Russia as an aggressor against Finland and denounced also Russia's policy of force in disregard of law. The next day he declared a moral embargo against soviet Russia and asked American firms to shut off sales of war equipment to an aggressor who had bombarded and machine-gunned civilians from the air.

On June 1, 1941, 10 days before the invasion of Russia when the president found it necessary to use troops of the regular Army to disperse rioters who were blocking the gates of the North American Aviation plant outside Los Angeles, Robert Jackson, then attorney general and now a justice of the Supreme court, a Roosevelt appointee said:

"The situation more nearly resembles insurrection than a labor strike. The distinction between loyal labor leaders and those following the Communist party line is easy to observe. Loyal labor leaders fight for a settlement of grievances. Disloyal men who have wormed their way into the labor movement don't want settlements. They want strikes. That is the Communist party line."

Within a month of that date, American Communists who had cheered the strike, were howling for more weapons and tools for Russia and a few months ago, Charlie Chaplin, the distinguished, unaturalized alien, pro-Communist paying guest of the United States was demanding that American men be sent against the nazi guns on a second front to relieve the pressure on Russia. Chaplin, who was not planning to go with them, remarked that in his time he had paid 10 million dollars in taxes as a paying guest but neglected to add that of that amount more than one million was taken from him by force of law by the internal revenue when he miscalculated his board bill in Uncle Sam's hotel at the sign of the free and easy.

One of the leaders of the California insurrection fomented by the disloyal men of the Communist party line was Wyndham Mortimer, a veteran disturber. For his part in this insurrection, Richard Frankenstein, national director of the aviation division of the United Auto Workers' union of the CIO found it necessary to fire him. However, not long afterward, the Cleveland Communists took Mortimer on as an organizer of the aluminum workers on the ground that in consideration of his past performances as a leader of insurrection, he deserved a break.

Our government's view of Communism was about the same as Churchill's at the time Hitler's invasion, for Sumner Welles' of the state department said:

"This government has often stated and, in many of his public statements, President Roosevelt has declared that freedom to worship as their own conscience dictates is the great and fundamental right of all peoples. This right has been denied to their peoples by both the nazi and soviet governments. To the people of the United States, this and other doctrines of the Communist dictatorship are as intolerable and as alien to their own beliefs as are the principles and the nazi dictatorship."

Last spring Francis Biddle, the present attorney general, upheld the finding that Harry Bridges was, by legal proof, a Communist and that he was therefore an enemy of this government. A few months later Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt recognized that the Communists of the United States were obedient to the rule of a foreign power.

Nevertheless, although any person who fraternized with or followed the "line" of the nazis before Pearl Harbor is now suspect and in danger of indictment many others, including Congressman Vito Marcantonio, who followed the Communist line, and some of the leaders of Roosevelt's own union, the newspaper guild, who did likewise, are trusted loyal Americans. And Earl Browder was released from prison for unity's sake.

The distinction is very confusing.

HOW IT WAS DONE

CHAPTER XXVII

THE preparations for Vaughan Dunbar's first appearance at Stone House were somewhat complex.

Henry Prentiss had to be injured, and for two reasons. First, to avoid playing in the game. Had I played, people would have wanted to discuss the game with me at Cynthia's party, to chide me for missing a shot or congratulate me for making one. In such a case, several people at least would have had their attention drawn directly to the fact that I was not there. Not playing, if they missed me at all they would probably assume that I was off taking treatment from my doctor.

As it was, only Cynthia could be positive of my absence. And my excuse to her was deliberately an annoying one. She was fond of me. She would not be likely to point out to our friends that I was not there—that I had gone to keep a rendezvous with another woman.

The second reason? An aid to the disguise. Everybody knew that Henry Prentiss had an injured hand—and the bandages which covered that simulated hurt were put on as conspicuously as possible. The very absence of them, in the person of Vaughan Dunbar, would add to the conviction of his character.

That first night, the grand entrance of Vaughan Dunbar upon the scene, was the real test, of course. But a failure at that time would not have been disastrous. If I had detected the slightest suspicion of my masquerade, the faintest glimmer of puzzlement in any face, I would simply have dropped the disguise forthwith, and laughed merrily at the premature discovery of my practical joke.

The same escape from the situation was always available, of course—right down to the last, critical instant.

The minor mechanics of the telephone calls, messages and the rest were simple enough to arrange.

I had three bad moments during the whole time of Vaughan Dunbar's existence. The first came on my second visit to Stone House—that time when I had to exert every morsel of my ingenuity to talk about Swedish mines. You will recall that Norman Tinker (or Colonel Merriweather, if you prefer) began the after-dinner conversation with the remark that I reminded him of someone he had known, and asked me whether my kink had ever visited California. Of course he was not remembering California, though he thought he was. He was remembering Henry Prentiss.

The second anxious moment came during the talk which Cynthia and I had beside the pool. To my immense astonishment, I saw that, driven by her daily life and lack of meaning in her daily life, she was becoming much attracted to one whom she believed a serious man of the world. She was about to fall in love with a creature who did not even exist!

For a brief moment, I was tempted to abandon the whole plan, and to take Henry Prentiss and Vaughan Dunbar forthwith out of Cynthia's life. Then the memory of that day in the wilderness floated back to me, and flooded all my mind, and stilled my instant of weakness.

Again, I was distressed on the day of the climax itself. I felt it necessary to appear at Stone House at lunch time. Among other reasons, I wished to satisfy myself, one last time, that the identity of Vaughan Dunbar was fully accepted.

But, despite the care which I had used in forwarding the telegram to myself, so that I would be able to leave before the meal itself, it was not until I was actually in the library that I realized I had made a mistake.

I had dared, for the first time, to appear as Vaughan Dunbar in full daylight. Certainly, that appearance was in the shadowed library, where my car stood, there was brilliant sunshine. Suddenly, after showing Cynthia and Mitchell Grace the telegram, I realized that they would follow me out to the car if I let them.

The risk was too great. So I simply burst from them without ceremony, and virtually ran to take myself away.

I MAY be forgiven, I believe, a certain measure of excitement on that day of days. And that excitement came very near to ruining the scheme entire. I had to play in the polo game, though certainly I did not want to. Merely to take my mind off the critical hours that lay ahead, I played to the hilt—for those first three chukkers—and hardly heard at all the admonitions of Cynthia.

But while we sat in the station wagon, an utterly terrifying truth came to me through her words. Suppose I should get hurt? Suppose even the most commonplace accident might happen: a wildly swung mallet hitting me in the face and making a cut, or even a noticeable bruise? Suppose my horse should go down, and I might suffer a genuine sprain, or break! The wounds of Henry Prentiss would not fit well upon the person of Vaughan Dunbar!

I was seized with fright as the realization of my awful mistake came over me. And thereafter, as you have seen, I avoided the slightest chance of a mishap.

It will be obvious that on this day of crisis I had quit the hotel in New York for good.

The background of Vaughan Dunbar there was filled in to the extent which I thought necessary. I knew that his imposture would be discovered sooner or later, and that made no difference to me whatever.

I only needed the delay of two or three days—two or three days in which the hue and cry would be up for Vaughan Dunbar, fugitive, and attention drawn away from Gull Point itself. Two or three days in which the fleeing man, impostor or not, had ample time to get away and put many miles between himself and the scene of his actions.

The telephone calls I had made to the United Press, the British Embassy and the others were simply to serve this end of delay in tracing Vaughan Dunbar. I had called those places, asked to speak to an unlikely name, and hung up. But the record of the calls at the hotel's switchboard meant that they must be tediously followed up.

The fingerprints were useful to the same purpose. They would have to be checked at many places, the while Vaughan Dunbar was, presumably, running hard. The apparatus I had contrived for making them was a product of my long preparatory labors in California.

In one of my practice roles there—that of an artistic but rather amusing freak—I had taken paraffin casts of the hands of several motion picture actors. From these casts,

SAGA OF EARLY FLOUR MILLS IN LEE COUNTY IS REVIEWED BEFORE HISTORICAL SOCIETY

A saga of the Rock river valley that lies especially close to the hearts of those whose parents were early pioneers of Lee county was unfolded before members of the Lee County Historical society last evening by E. E. Wingert, Dixon attorney and historian, in a paper on "Pioneer Flour Mills."

Lumber and food were the two most pressing needs confronting the early settlers. Mr. Wingert pointed out. The demand for sawed lumber was first met in this locality, by Jeremiah Whipple, who in 1837 built a saw mill at Whipple's cave, near Franklin Grove on the creek, where traces of the race and saw pit may still be seen.

In the same year, Judge Wilkinson built another saw mill at Huff's Reserve, back of the present location of the Wilbur Lumber company, which was soon converted into a distillery. (Several years ago, Mr. Wingert stated, the Journal of the Illinois State Historical society quoted statistics on the vast numbers of the log rafts which floated down the Rock river, before construction of the dam here.) Other saw mills were built at Grand Detour on Fine creek, on Willow creek, and at Rocky Ford—yet much lumber had to be brought overland from Freeport or Galena.

Game was plentiful, also fish and berries, and livestock brought with the pioneers soon multiplied. But bread flour was procurable only by traveling long distances and at great expense over the trackless prairies. Breaking the prairie soil was almost impossible until the steel plow of Andrus and Deere was introduced.

A Frenchman, named Filamee, is credited with the first attempts to make flour. He came to Rocky

TO MICHIGAN

The Lyle Prescotts and their little daughter, Sally, expect to leave Saturday morning for Plymouth, Mich., where Mrs. Prescott's brother, Lieut. (J. G.) Edwin A. Schrader will be at home on leave after completing a training course at Princeton university. They will also visit Mrs. Prescott's parents and sister, the F. D. Schraders and Miss Evelyn Schrader.

Ford before 1835, and pounded up wheat in a mortar made of burr oak. A primitive method of treshing, by pouring the chaff through the wind, was contained in a description quoted by Mr. Wingert from Dr. Ephraim P. Ingals, who practiced medicine with his brother-in-law, Dr. R. F. Adams, at Lee Center. (Their brick office is now the post office in that village).

At times, flour was brought in to Dixon by wagons driven to the lead mines at Galena, as an aged account handed down from John Richards, Mrs. Wingert's grandfather, reveals. Fifty pounds of "best flour" was purchased May 27, 1839 for $2.50.

Mrs. Benjamin Wasson, who came to Amboy township in 1837, is quoted in by historians as stating that her father brought his flour from Peoria. (Mrs. Wasson was the sister of the wife of the Mormon leader, Joseph Smith who often visited Lee county, many of his followers having settled at Rocky Ford).

Charles F. Ingals drove to Dayton, near Ottawa, to get flour, and once took a load of wheat to be ground at the Meeks mill on the Princeton-Dixon trail.

In 1840, a good grist mill was built on Pine creek, half way to the Pines in Ogle county. Thaddeus D. Boardman, Mr. Wingert's father-in-law, built the mill and a substantial brick house on an adjacent knoll. No vestige remains of the mill, which served a territory.

Mary Schmitt and Cadet Coppotelli Are Wed in Texas

Miss Mary Quirine Schmitt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Schmitt of Algona, Iowa and Cadet Lawrence Coppotelli, Jr., only son of the Lawrence Coppotellis of Nelson, were married in a military ceremony Saturday evening in the Catholic chapel at Kelly field, San Antonio, Texas. The Rev. Father M. J. O'Malley, second lieutenant in the army air corps, read the vows.

Attending the couples were Mrs. Fred W. Dick of Congers, N. Y. and Cadet Robert T. Carmody of Staten Island, New York.

The bride pinned a white orchid to the shoulder of her yellow suit. Her accessories were blue and black. The white prayer book she carried was a gift from her mother, and her silver rosary was her bridegroom's gift.

Mrs. Dick wore a wine-colored dress, with black and white accessories. Her corsage bouquet contained gardenias.

Mrs. Coppotelli, the bridegroom's mother, attended her son's wedding, wearing printed silk jersey, accented by a shoulder bouquet of yellow roses.

Members of the bridegroom's squadron and their officers were in attendance, and after the ceremony, formed an arch with drawn sabers beneath which the newlyweds walked while leaving the chapel.

The bride was graduated from Presentation academy in Whittemore, Iowa, and attended Mary Crest college in Davenport, Iowa. She has been employed at the Rock Island arsenal.

Cadet Coppotelli was a football star at Community high school in Sterling, from where he was graduated in 1935. He received a bachelor of science degree in chemistry at St. Ambrose college in Davenport, May 31, 1942, enlisted in the air corps on June 5, and was inducted last Nov. 6, having been assigned to Kelly Field.

Cadet and Mrs. Coppotelli will make their home in San Antonio for the present.

RECENT BRIDE IS HONORED

Miss Betty Lou Chaon of near West Brooklyn was entertained with a post-nuptial shower Sunday afternoon complimenting Mrs. Margery (Gardner) Cruse.

The honoree found her packages beneath a decorated umbrella that was suspended from an archway. Unwrapping the bridal gifts was followed by games of buncos, with Carol Gardner, Arlene Waller, and Bertha Walter sharing the favors, which were also presented to the bride. The gift cards read for 20 guests. Pink and blue, the bride's chosen colors, appointed the refreshment table. The centerpiece was a wedding cake, topped with a miniature bridal pair.

Musical Is Treat for Phidian Club at Chapman Home

Five ambitious young musicians and a more experienced trio contributed to the sum total of the afternoon's pleasure at yesterday's musicale presented for members of the Phidian Art club at the home of Mrs. Dwight Chapman. Mrs. F. A. Hanson was Mrs. Chapman's co-hostesses.

The program, varying from flute and piano solos to two-piano numbers and a Beethoven trio, was admirably done. Betsy Hoon appeared first at the keyboard, playing Clementi's Allegro from Sonatina in G and "The Wild Rider" by Schumann, followed by Beethoven's "Country Dance No. 3," interpreted by Mrs. Chapman's young daughter, Ann; two flute solos, "Allegro apert from Concerto in D, (Mozart) and Bach's "Polonaise," by Lloyd Warren Walter, with his sister, Grace Pirkey Walter playing his piano accompaniments; and a two-piano selection, "Waltz," (Arensky), by Susan Warner of this city and Robert Swehla of Sterling.

Near-professional blending of the three instruments they were playing was achieved by the trio, composed of Eleanor Chapman, pianist; Caroline Westgrove, violinist; and Ellen Konka, cellist, who gave an inspiring performance of the Beethoven trio, Op. 1 No. 3, including the Allegro con brio, andante cantabile con variazioni, minueto and finale.

The audience of 45 or 50 clubwomen and guests found pride mingling with pleasure as the program progressed, for the entire concert was characterized by qualities and achievements that musicians can't display without earnest work. And while the country's mood in wartime is somber, music has long been recognized as an important factor in the art of morale-raising; yesterday's musicale-goers found comfort in the thought their town "hath what it takes" when it comes to dispelling gloom by music.

The club's music committee, Mrs. George B. Shaw and Mrs. L. W. Walter arranged the musicale. Mrs. Walter presided at the tea table, where spring flowers made a bright splash of color.

MOMENTS TO CHERISH

Do you want to remember just when Baby first laughed out loud—when he first tasted cereal (and if he liked it)—and many more such interesting moments in his life?

The best way to remember is to let your Baby Book keep those tender moments alive for you.

Our selection includes the popular DR. DAFOE BABY BOOK; DR. DELEE'S BABY'S FIRST SEVEN YEARS; and "OUR TWINS."

50c - $2.50

If Baby enjoys having his picture taken, keep a record with snapshots. Record his growth with a picture each month, if possible. Add "snaps" of his playmates, favorite toys, first step. He, too, will enjoy this book in a few years.

That Extra Something!

...You can spot it every time

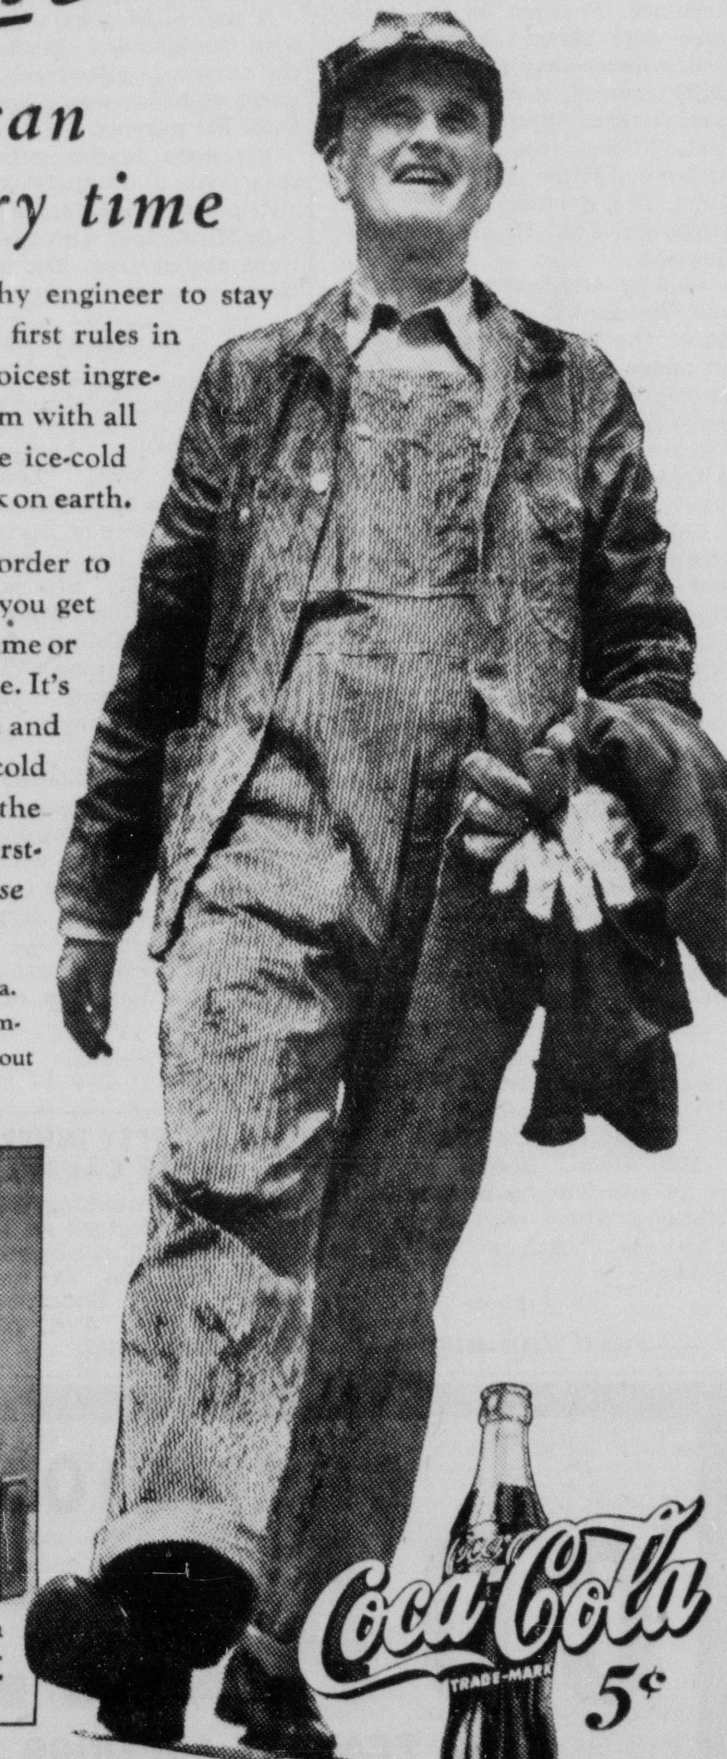

YOU can count on a trustworthy engineer to stay on the right track. One of our first rules in making Coca-Cola is to buy the choicest ingredients. Another rule is to blend them with all the 57 years of skill that have made ice-cold Coca-Cola the most popular soft drink on earth.

For you, there's only one rule in order to enjoy ice-cold Coca-Cola. Be sure you get the real thing. Call for it by its full name or by its affectionate abbreviation—Coke. It's the way to get the distinctive taste and summed up goodness that make ice-cold Coca-Cola a thing unto itself. It's the way to change a commonplace thirst-quenching into the energizing pause that refreshes. * * *

Wartime limits the supply of Coca-Cola. Those times when you cannot get it, remember: Coca-Cola, being first choice, sells out first. Ask for it each time.

With a ne-man lunch, you want more than just a beverage. You want refreshment, too. That's what ice-cold Coca-Cola is... refreshment... all refreshment.

The best is always the better buy!

Naval Forces Feel

strength of the fleets now engaged.

The three largest previous battles were one fought considerably eastward of the Solomons Aug. 23-25; the battle of Santa Cruz islands, Oct. 26; and the battle of Guadalcanal, Nov. 13-15.

The American high command has felt certain all along that sooner or later a new enemy offensive would be launched, and Knox made it clear late in November that American plans were being made accordingly.

Big Force Concentrated

In view of Knox's statements then, and also of more recent assurances from him and other high Navy officials that the American hold on the southeastern Solomons was secure, authorities said today that considerable naval force undoubtedly had been concentrated in readiness for the thrust the Japs now have made.

The Japanese, these authorities said, would normally expect such a concentration and would try to put against it an even larger number of ships. It is believed they have two or three more aircraft carriers than the United States is known to have had left from its original force of seven, four of which were sunk last year.

This would not be a clear advantage, even if they chose to risk them however, for the carriers which the Japs lost at Midway and in the Coral Sea battle were their biggest and best and, moreover, some of those which did remain afloat were badly damaged.

"Unsinkable" Carrier

Another factor offsetting any numerical advantage they might have in "floating airfields" is American possession of the base on Guadalcanal which, in the circumstances, become a sort of "unsinkable" carrier. Also, the MacArthur's Australian command, particularly those based in north-eastern New Guinea.

The nearest Japanese land bases are in the Munda area of the central Solomons, about 190 miles northwest of Guadalcanal. That General MacArthur's aerial support is making itself felt was seen in a communique from his Australian headquarters only today reporting that allied planes had raided New Britain island, one of the big bases from which the Japanese could be conducting their operations in the Solomons. One allied bomber swept down on three troop-land power launches in open bay, causing considerable damage, while at Rabaul, in the fourth straight day of pre-dawn raiding, formation of heavy bombers concentrated on Vanakau airdrome.

Terse News

Wounded in Action—

Mr. and Mrs. Nate Thompson of Woosung this morning received a message from the American Red Cross informing them that their son had been wounded in action at New Caledonia.

Range Starts Fire—

An overheated gas range started a fire at the H. H. Reynolds home, 1411 Third street last evening at 6:15, which necessitated the services of the fire department. Only slight damage was reported which was covered by insurance.

Six Die in Plane Crash—

Casper, Wyo., Feb. 3.—(AP)—A four-motored bomber in the north-west corner of the town of Casper, Wyo. crashed yesterday, killing the entire crew of six men aboard, Lieut. Carl A. Swenson, public relations officer, announced today.

Flight Instructor Killed—

San Antonio, Tex., Feb. 3.—(AP)—Second Lieut. Harry D. Miller, 26, flight instructor at Randolph Field, was killed yesterday after he bailed out of his plane which crashed near the town of Boerne. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Miller of Sandwich, Ill.

Under Bond of $500—

B. K. Smith of Woosung was held under bond of $500 when arraigned before Justice J. O. Shaull yesterday on a charge of assault and battery upon Hugh O'Rourke Saturday night on Page Drive west of the Illinois Central bridge. The hearing was continued for one week and in default of bond, Smith was returned to the county jail.

Supervisors Delayed—

Several members of the Lee county board of supervisors were delayed in reaching Dixon today for their regular monthly meeting, due to the icy condition of highways. Chairman O. H. Martin of the Lee County War Price and Rationing board appeared before the board to explain plans for the registration for point ration books in the near future.

Fixes Brotherhood Week—

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 3.—(AP)—Governor Green in a proclamation today commended the observance of Brotherhood Week Feb. 19-28, sponsored by the National Conference of Christians and Jews. He said the period was planned "to promote amity and understanding among people of every religious faith."

Faces Speeding Charge—

Calvin H. Murphy, Green River ordinance plant employee, of this city, now faces a charge of speeding on U. S. route 30, following dismissal of a charge of failure to stop at the intersection of the two highways at Brechon's corner on January 22. After Justice W. T. Terrill dismissed the charge in his court yesterday, the second charge was filed by State Officer Russell Gentry.

McKeough Gets Position—

Washington, Feb. 3.—(AP)—Raymond S. McKeough, former Illinois congressman, today was appointed regional administrator of the Office of Price Administration, with headquarters in Chicago. McKeough was the Democratic nominee for United States senator in the last Illinois election, losing to incumbent, C. Wayland Brooks, Republican. McKeough will succeed John C. Weigel, who resigned Monday, without explanation.

Committee Favors Dies—

Washington, Feb. 3.—(AP)—Another two years of life for the committee on un-American activities headed by Rep. Dies (D-Texas) was favored by the house rules committee today despite a protest by Rep. Folger (D-NC) that the group was interested chiefly in publicity. The rules committee approved a resolution extending the Dies investigation and increasing the committee membership from seven to eight in order to add a Republican and make the new line-up five Democrats and three Republicans. The resolution now goes before the house.

Public Nurse Meeting—

A venereal disease control conference for public health nurses in the northern Illinois area will be held at the Loveland Community House Friday. This meeting has been planned by the Lee County Health Department in cooperation with the Illinois Department of Public Health in observance of Social Hygiene Day. The program will consist of talks by speakers prominent in the field of venereal disease control, moving pictures and discussions. A representative of the Illinois Public Health committee will speak at the luncheon to be held at the Hotel Nachusa.

In Lee Co. Circuit Court—

Judge Leon A. Zick of Oregon, sitting in the Lee county Circuit court yesterday, disposed of cases pending against the Steward Cooperative Grain Co., and its officers. The court entered judgment against Claude Herrmann, manager of the elevator, in the amount of $2,074.95 and the court costs in favor of Lowell Hoyt & Co., of Chicago, grain brokers. In the action against the officers of the elevator company, Judge Zick ruled that each has rights for their costs against the plaintiff. The officers named are as follows: Alvin Detig, Howard Ritchie, William Ravnaas, John Ullensvang, August R. Stunkel, Otto Wickness, Howard R. Ackland and Claude Y. Herrmann. The court dismissed the cause as to the defendant, Steward Cooperative Grain Co., on the grounds that the firm had gone through bankruptcy.

One of Triplets Dies—

One of a set of triplet daughters born to Mr. and Mrs. Chester Blake, formerly of this city and now of Chicago, died shortly after birth Saturday at Lying-in hospital in Chicago. The babies weighed only one and a half pounds at birth and arrived on the anniversary of the third birthday of the Bakers young daughter, Sandra Lee. Mrs. Baker is the former Clarice Conrad of Rochelle.

Brutal Slaying

tered rolling pin, and a 10-inch blackjack.

The slaying, police theorized, occurred between 1 p. m. and 3 p. m. yesterday. Capt. William Drury said while Miss Carey was talking on the telephone with her cousin, Mrs. Phoebe Zyrkowski, at about 1 o'clock, she told her that a caller was at the door and asked her "to call me back in an hour." About two hours later firemen were called to the apartment in a building at 510-12 Addison street and found her body.

Police said Miss Carey, who left her Chicago home about 10 years ago "to make her own way," had been employed as a dice girl at various night clubs and was well known in the city's night life. Drury said that she was at one time a close friend of Nick Dean, night club operator, who now is serving an eight year sentence in a New York prison on a charge of extortion from motion picture operators.

Red Squeeze Continues

The soviet squeeze upon other German strongholds continued. By taking Pavlovskaya (Soviet), 75 miles south of Rostov on the Rostov-Baku railway, the Russians blocked off still another artery of Nazi communications, a branch railway line that juts northward to Yeisk, on the Sea of Azov.

Pressing upon Krasnodar, Nazi-held city in the Kuban river valley, the Red army took the railway station of Korenkovskaya, 40 miles to the north, in a sweeping pincers action.

The Russians strengthened their positions east of Kharkov, by retaking Pokrovskoye and Nizhe Duvanka, 11 and 13 miles north of Svatovo, the re-occupation of which was announced yesterday.

The Germans were still counterattacking in some sectors, but the Russians declared they were smashing every such enemy effort.

Col. Gen. Nikolai Vatutin's command, closing upon Rostov from the northeast, was credited with the recapture of 10 more populated points.

statewide basis and set up a graduated deferment scale, providing for induction of men with one child before men with two children, etc.

Bankhead warned of an impending food shortage in calling Maj. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, selective service director, before a senate committee for questioning on the new draft rule's effect on farm labor. The senator asserted that the military drain on farmers already had resulted in a depletion of food supplies.

Although WMC Chairman Paul V. McNutt said that the first list of "non-deferrable" occupations and activities was just a beginning, well-informed manpower sources reported there had been no discussions of additions to the list. They gave this information in explaining, in answer to queries, that speculation on whether professional athletes would be included in future lists was "sheer guess work."

Shortage of Butter

Government food authorities anticipate a new outbreak of consumer complaints over butter shortages.

Civilians who have been able to get only a quarter of a pound now and then may have even greater difficulty during the next several weeks as the result of a government order requiring creamery butter manufacturers to set aside 30 per cent of their output for war needs. The order went into effect Monday. Butter production is at a relatively low level now, but should increase in the spring when dairy cows freshen, pastures revive and milk production picks up. The civilian demand, estimated to be at least 15 per cent greater than before the war, is so strong, say officials of the Food Production Administration, that rationing may have to be resorted to.

Coastal Junction

that the Americans withdrew after accomplishing their mission. A spokesman said today, however, that the announcement (apparently of the withdrawal) was premature and was based on plans originally to fall back a short distance along the rail line. He said the Americans captured a number of German prisoners and tanks at Sened.

Attacks Unsuccessful

Today's communique reported that two days of attack on strong enemy positions at Faid Pass, north of Maknassy, had been unsuccessful.

A spokesman said the action had been broken off temporarily after American armored forces failed to recapture the pass in a fierce attack.

He said the German were strongly entrenched on heights dominating the westward approach to the pass, which they captured over the weekend in a thrust through French defenses.

"The German artillery probably outranged our own," the spokesman commented.

Allied bombers started large fires and destroyed parked aircraft yesterday in an attack on airdromes at Sfax, the communique said.

In addition it reported 12 enemy aircraft destroyed during daylight operations yesterday besides two bombers the night before.

13 Planes Missing

"Thirteen of our aircraft are missing," the war bulletin announced. Accompanying the Tunisian engagements for control of the corridor along the Gulf of Gabes was the announcement in Cairo that the British Eighth Army proper was within heavy artillery range of the Tunisian frontier, long ago crossed by its armored patrols.

A Cairo communique said Gen. Sir Bernard Montgomery's men had occupied Zelten, less than 20 miles from the border, and were in contact with Rommel's rear guard only 12 miles from the frontier.

The Berlin radio reported that strong allied forces broke into axis positions at one point on the central Tunisian front, but that an immediate German counterattack closed the gap and small British forces were wiped out.

An Italian communique said allied air raiders caused some damage at Crotone, Italy.

Ordinance Plant Blast

Fatal to One Employee

St. Louis, Feb. 3.—(AP)—The explosion of a cart loaded with primers in the St. Louis ordinance plant killed Robert Bunch, 19, a plant employee.

No other persons were injured and there was no property damage, plant officials said last night. Bunch was pushing the cart at the time of the blast.

The plant manufacturers small arms ammunition.

tory within a radius of 50 miles. Later, a grist mill was built at Grand De Tour, and its mill stones may still be seen in the walk leading to Beck's Landmark tea room there.

Remnants of Sanford's mill remain in western Ogle county, the speaker said. It was not until 1844 that the first mill for grinding flour was started at Binghamton, a mile east of Amboy on the Green river, John Dexter and Warren and Palmer Badger were the founders. In 1856, a large flour mill was begun by the Shelburn Manufacturing company, headed by Frederick Dutcher, at Rocky Ford, a mile west of Amboy. Mr. Dutcher's house remains, resembling a pioneer road house. His mill was combined with a distillery, and the total cost was $65,000.

The next mill was built in 1847 by the Rev. Joseph Emmert, the speaker's great-grandfather. It was located on Franklin creek, about two and a half miles northwest of Franklin Grove. Rev. Emmert, his son-in-law, Christian Lahman, who was one of the founders of Franklin Grove and three of Mr. Lahman's sons served as millers.

The late Charles R. Walgreen secured some of the hewed oak beams from this mill for his home at "Hazelwood," in return for altering the mill into a barn for the Schultz family, present owners of the site.

Perhaps the most spectacular of all grist mills in this region was the one built in Franklin Grove in 1875 by Joseph C. Lahman, John D. Lahman and John L. Strook. It was a wind mill of the type so familiar in Holland.

The first grist mill in Dixon was built in 1852 at the south end of the dam by J. B. Brooks and Col. John Dement. In 1858, Charles Godfrey built another mill adjacent to the first. About 1870, the millers, Henry Becker and Nathan Underwood, adopted the Hungarian method of making improved flour, which many of the listeners recall was known as "Becker and Underwood New Process XXXX Flour." (The term "XXXX" was derived from the use of those letters on barrels of flour sold in the southwest at a price of $40.)

The Dixon mill was the first in this part of the country to use the new process, and gained widespread interest. Great wagons drawn by huge draft horses hauled the flour to the railroad station.

About 1:30 o'clock on the night of April 8, 1880, a disastrous fire broke out in the Becker and Underwood mill, and a terrific explosion of flour dust occurred in the upper part of the six-story structure. Firemen on the second floor were blown down to the first, whence they escaped, though badly injured. Among the voluntary firemen injured were Cyrus Lint, William Rink, Jr., Orville B. Anderson, Peter Ramsey, William Vann, Lee Stevens, Frank Goetzberger, Joe Hayden, and Joe Reuland.

Shortly afterward, the Becker and Underwood mill was rebuilt. Later, the business was reorganized under the name of the Dixon Milling company. O. D. Fellows came from Boston to manage it and was accompanied by the late Alfred P. Armington as bookkeeper.

Cheney and company operated a steam flouring mill on the south side of Third street, just east of Highland avenue, in a stone building which they vacated in 1859. "Of all the old grist mills in this country," Mr. Wingert said in conclusion, "but one building remains—the old Emmert mill on Franklin creek, now 96 years old and so well built that it is likely to stand a century yet, and well worth preservation as the sole remnant of a once-flourishing industry."

David Spencer, who with Mr. Wingert were among eye witnesses to the Becker and Underwood mill fire, made additional comments concerning the tragedy. Judge George Dixon, the society president, presided.

Somonauk Plays Dixon on Local Floor Saturday

Unbeaten DeKalb Co. High School Five One of the Best

By BILL EVANS

Saturday night the Dixon Dukes will play "little" Somonauk here. Somonauk, up to a few days ago, was rated as No. 1 contender for the state championship of Illinois, but due to the smaller towns they have played, they have dropped to third place and Moline has taken over top honors. Somonauk boasts an amazing record of 20 victories against no defeats.

Somonauk has a population of 600 and is located in the southern part of DeKalb county. There are 32 boys in the high school and 18 of the 32 are out for basketball this season. Somonauk has won 20 consecutive games and has not even come close to being defeated in their schedule. The closest any team has come to them is within 5 points and that team was Seneca.

Coach Randle's boys have had an average of about 50 points per game so far this season. Somonauk's high rating has been due to the fact they have won the DeKalb holiday and the Little Ten tournaments. In the DeKalb holiday tournament they defeated such teams as Batavia, Waterman, Sycamore, and Belvidere. In the Little Ten tournament at Waterman, they scuttled Hinckley, Shabbona, and Leland.

Somonauk has met a good cross section of competition in this area, but will meet stiffer tests when it meets some larger towns in February. Some of these teams will be Dixon, Paris and Earlville.

Due to the lack of players and a heavy schedule Somonauk seldom plays steady scoring game. In past games they have taken a substantial lead early in the game and from that point they have scored only when it was necessary. In Saturday night's game with Dixon, Coach Randle will start his all senior lineup in the varsity contest. His lineup will be as follows:

Somonauk Lineup

Bill Westbrook, f. 6 ft. 2 1/2 in.
Don Voss, f. 5 ft. 10 1/2 in.
Art Denilauler, c. 6 ft. 1 in.
Bob Sherman, g. 6 ft.
Bill Prussing, g. 6 ft.

Prussing, Sherman and Denilauler, three of the first string varsity, are related to each other. Undoubtedly Don Prussing, 6 ft. 2 1/2 in. and Jerry Voss 5 ft. 8 1/2 in. sophomore reserves, will see action in Saturday night's game here.

Coach L. E. Sharpe of Dixon will be sending his regular lineup on the floor for the game with Somonauk. It will consist of Dixon Frank Leeper, f. 5 ft. 7 in.

Walter Knack, f. 5 ft. 11 1/2 in.
John Loftus, c. 6 ft.
Fred Howard, g. 6 ft. 1 in.
Bryce Hubbard, g. 6 ft. 1/2 in.

In preparation for Saturday night's game, the Dukes have been brushing up on a few weak points in their teamwork and on their free throws.

Sophomore Game

At 7:30 o'clock the Somonauk "B" team will take on Coach Lindell's sophomores. The young Dukes have now lost four games in a row and will be out there fighting for their first victory in as many starts. Lindell has rearranged his lineup for Saturday night's game here. The following players will take the floor for Dixon in the preliminary game: Utz and Green as the forwards, Fuller at center, and Meinke and Brown at the guard positions.

The officials for the Somonauk-Dixon game will be Art Boissin and E. M. Cole both of Princeton.

State Tournament Tickets

Tickets for the state basketball tournament at Champaign on March 18, 19 and 20, are now on sale. This year no tickets are to be sold by mail except season tickets. The prices of the season tickets are $3.85 for adults and $2.35 for students in grade school or high school. There are 2,750 season tickets still available to the general public. The orders for these tickets must be made by money order, certified check or bank draft. No personal checks will be accepted.

Orders for tickets are to be mailed as follows:

Chicago, Feb. 3.—(AP)—In case someone has been wondering what happened to that sensational basketball winning streak of Marshall high school's junior division team, it's still intact. The Juniors, who started their string in December, 1939, won their 72nd in a row yesterday, 69-30.

Chicago, Feb. 3.—(AP)—Chicago's Cubs will return to standard type baseball uniforms this season.

The sleeveless shirts they have been wearing for the last three years would be eliminated, General Manager James Gallagher said, because "I understand the players want to go back to the standard type".

"The vests" had been designed to permit more freedom of movement.

Los Angeles, Feb. 3.—(AP)—"The Russians are winning the war because they are all good chess players," says Al Horowitz, international master of the game. Both ear and chess require logic, sound reasoning, imagination and daring, he insists.

And chess games in Moscow weren't even interrupted by the siege of that city last year," he said; "they played even though they had to do it practically underground".

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

New York, Feb. 3.—(AP)—

With folks talking about using horses instead of automobiles to get around, it seems silly to hear that horse racing (of all things) is having more troubles about transportation than just getting the horse-players to the tracks.

Eastern horsemen are wondering how Jamaica's Wood Memorial, the Kentucky Derby and the Preakness can be run on successive Saturdays next spring and still draw the top three-year-olds.

They may find it difficult, if not impossible, to ship the nags to Louisville and back in such a short time. And from Louisville comes the word that there's a shortage of straw for horse bedding because farmers can't get help and baling wire to get it ready and have trouble shipping it anyway.

STEVE'S SLIP—

Steve Mesner, the new Dodger infielder, played through the long Pacific Coast League season for Sacramento last year without missing an inning. But in the last game of the "Sacs" playoff against Seattle, Steve became peeved when he was called out on strikes in the ninth inning. He slammed his bat against the stand and was bounced from the game, so Manager Pepper Martin had to spoil a perfect record by putting a sub on third base for the last half of the ninth.

SHORTS AND SHELLS—

Suppose you notice that professional athletes weren't listed among the "non-deferrable" classes yesterday, but green keepers were told to get other jobs. Looks as if the pro golfers really would have to start playing cow pasture pool. After being exposed to the convivial Jimmy Conzelman for ten successive days and nights, New York sports writers have organized a "send a dime to get Conzelman out of town" club so they can get acquainted with their families and catch up on sleep.

TODAY'S GUEST STAR—

John M. Flynn, Pittsfield (Mass.) Berkshire Eagle: "Jimmy Fox told Springfield writers that if the Chicago Cubs do not meet his salary demands for 1943 he may continue as an oil salesman. There may be more oil to that statement than some persons are able to buy."

SERVICE DEPT.—

The M. P. detachment at Fort Sheridan, Ill., isn't worrying about prisoners who might escape from Pvt. Alexander Grassl. The first time he ever ran a race, Pvt. Grassl beat two Olympic runners in a track meet at Altoona, Pa., in 1925. Former baseball stars at the Norfolk naval training station have organized a cage team known as the "Ragamuffins." Members include Phil Rizzuto, Vinnie Smith and Freddie Hutchinson.

High School Faculty Members Officiate in Southern Cage Game

Griggsville, Ill., Feb. 3.—(AP)—Winchester and Griggsville high schools turned back the sport pages last night when each brought along their own officials to work a basketball double header.

A decision against importing neutral referees, which would have necessitated a separate trip or trips, was agreed upon by the rival coaches in a move to conserve on tires and gasoline.

Wesley Bovinette, of the Winchester faculty, rode here with the Winchester team, thus adding no extra mileage to tires or gasoline. Wallie Gregory of the Griggsville faculty already was here.

Both are veteran officials. After the games, Coaches Bill Strickland of Winchester and Art Wehmeier of Griggsville, said the faculty men did a fine non-partisan job of officiating.

Oh yes, Winchester won the game between the reserves, by one point, and Griggsville took the varsity contest—also by one point.

Paw Paw Drops Three Contests to Shabbona

(Telegraph Special Service)

Paw Paw, Feb. 3.—Three basketball games were lost by Paw Paw cagers last evening to Shabbona. The visiting Grange team walloped the locals 26 to 7 to start the evening's activities, then the Shabbona high school second team took Paw Paw into camp to the score of 35 to 5. In the main event of the evening Shabbona took advantage of the scoring slump suffered by the high school first team in the final two quarters and run up a final count of 40 to 25. Next Friday evening Sandwich high school is scheduled to appear on the local floor. The score by quarters of last evening's feature game:

Shabbona 7 14 31 40
Paw Paw 7 15 19 25

Birthday Dinner

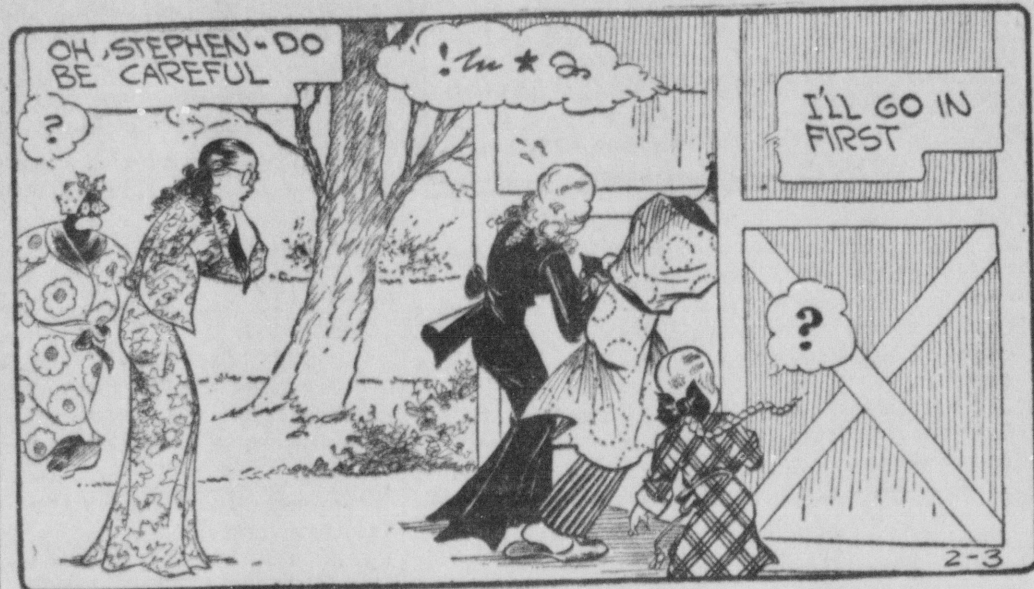

A dinner party was held Tuesday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Thomas in observance of the 88th birthday of Mrs. Thomas' mother, Mrs. Esther Fruin. Guests included Mrs. Thoren Beeler and Mrs. Robert Arries of Beloit, Wis., Mrs. John Crossen, Mrs. Ralph Crossen and son, Michael of Daventport, Ia., Mr. and Mrs. Tom Fruin of Grand Detour, Mrs. Bert Englund of Nelson, Mrs. Fred Fredrickson of Mount Morris, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Little and son Dick and Mrs. James Harshman. Table appointments were pink and white, a large pink frosted cake forming the centerpiece. Mrs. Fruin was also remembered with many greeting cards and flowers. Mrs. Clarence Lumsden was a visitor Friday of her sister, Mrs. Harry Rock in Mount Morris.

Miss Della Lumsden spent the week end in Polo visiting her brother, Clarence Lumsden at the Alex Anderson home and attended the Oregon-Polo basketball game Friday night.

Ogle Ration News

The Ogle County War Price and Rationing Board at Oregon today issued the following bulletin:

Fuel Oil
Fuel oil coupon No. 4 valid from January 31 to April 12th. Unit value will be 11 gallons.

Coffee
Coffee stamp No. 28 not valid after Feb. 7th.

Gasoline
Tractor fuel having a flash point below 100 degrees Fahrenheit is not included with in the definition of fuel oil under ration Order No. 11 but is gasoline under Ration Order No. 5C. Certain Tractor Fuels fall within this classification. Therefore, it is very important that all persons using or dealing in these products treat them as gasoline and make certain that the representations to the Office of Price Administration are correctly stated on that basis. This means that any dealer, distributor or supplier who has not been handling this product as a gasoline product must re-register on Feb. 8, 1943 or Feb. 9, 1943 and any consumer holding fuel oil coupons for the purchase of such tractor fuel must exchange them for gasoline coupons.

Illinois Is 36th in Municipal Airports

State Ranks Fifth in Number of Planes and Operators

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 3—(AP)—Although it ranks fifth in the number of planes and pilots, Illinois is behind 35 other states in the number of airline "stops" and behind 27 in the number of municipal airports. Clarence W. Chiles, member of the State Aeronautics Commission, told the Illinois Aviation Conference yesterday.

The conference, which municipal and Chamber of Commerce officials attended, discussed plans for a legislative and educational program to promote an airport for the University of Illinois, establishment and expansion of an airport at Aurora, where $1,200,000 in federal funds have been allocated, and development of other new airports throughout the state.

Ben Regan, Chicago, chairman of the state aeronautics commission, who outlines the objectives, said new legislation would be sponsored by the commission to facilitate condemnation of property by the commission for use in constructing airports such as Aurora's.

Chiles said Chicago and Moline now are the state's only stops for major airline service. He said Illinois has 5,039 pilots and 1,370 planes registered.

Urges Prompt Action
He urged prompt action to push airport construction for "a tremendous postwar increase in air traffic, especially in express and freight", and said 20,000 Illinois factories would require such air service after the war.

Total federal funds expended for airports in Illinois has been $8,461,604, Chiles said, adding that only $1,583,201 was for downstate construction. He said there are 16 "alleged" municipal airports in Illinois, but that actually there are only three that are adequate.

Louis Leverone, Chicago, chairman of the board of directors and of the aviation committee of the Illinois Chamber of Commerce, was elected chairman of the conference. Hugh Dobbs, Springfield attorney, was named vice-chairman, and Henry H. Bolz, secretary of the Decatur Chamber of Commerce, was reelected secretary-treasurer.

Dobbs summarized a bill which is scheduled to be introduced in the present general assembly. The bill would authorize municipal-

President Tells of Lighter Side of Long Journey

Washington, Feb. 3—(AP)—President Roosevelt disclosed Tuesday that the secret service had resorted to a school boy's trick to divert attention from him while he was traveling to Rabat, Morocco, to inspect American troops on January 21.

He explained that the secret service men felt there was little to fear from the natives who constitute about 90 per cent of the inhabitants, but thought some of the Frenchmen there might get unduly excited. So when two secret service operatives, riding in a jeep ahead of him saw a European both would point to the sky excitedly and exclaim, "Look, look". While the European hunted for plane overhead, Roosevelt whizzed on by.

Another trick to divert attention, he said, was for one secret service man to pretend he was falling out of the jeep, his companion grabbing him and hauling him back aboard.

Other Incidentals
Some other incidentals of his North African trip mentioned by the president at a press conference:

A birthday party was held for the chief executive January 30, with a cake and candles, in a plane 8,000 feet above Haiti.

Five WAACs took care of the telephone and stenographic work for the Casablanca staff meetings, and Roosevelt had them all to what he termed a nice little party. He said the WAACs had had an amazing experience in December when all were aboard a ship which was torpedoed. All were landed safely in Africa, he said, with no clothes whatsoever. He hastened to add, amid a titter from his audience, they had no clothing except that on their backs.

palities, with the approval of the state aeronautics commission and the voters, to create an airport authority to seek state or federal aid or issue bonds for airport construction and operation.

TO PULL OIL BARGES

St. Louis, Feb. 3—(AP)—A streamlined Diesel-engined towboat, the most powerful on inland waterways, will be pulling oil barges up the Mississippi and Ohio rivers within ten days.

The 160-foot boat, named "Sohio", was built for the Standard Oil Company of Ohio by the St. Louis Shipbuilding & Steel Company.

BACK TO THE SOIL

Washington

By Peter Edson
Telegraph Special Service

This is a dizzy piece, the title of which should be "How 45 Paratroopers Had a Million Dollars' Worth of Fun for $1000," or, "Through Washington Society on Double-Time in Three Days and Two Nights," or, "The Collection of Famous Autographs on the Plaster Cast Around Sergeant Chapman's Sprained Ankle."

It's a tossup whether the 45 Paratroopers took Washington or whether Washington took the 45 Paratroopers, but anyway, nobody who had anything to do with the affair will ever be the same again, except maybe the 'troopers, and Berlin had better look out if these boys start dropping in with their tommyguns. For without weapons of any kind, hare-handed and with only their $1000 capital, this detail of 45 took Washington from Capitol Hill to the social heights of Georgetown in the short space between Sunday morning after breakfast to Tuesday evening before supper, storming the White House and Eleanor just for luck and by way of a last stop.

Bert Brandt, the Acme photographer who tried to keep up with these 45 Paratroopers for some 60 hours of their 72-hour leave, is now a total wreck. But so are the dowagers, debutantes, diplomats and statesmen who entertained them and—well, maybe it's just as good the Paratroopers have gone back to Fort Bragg, N. C.

It all began when somebody in the headquarters company of the 504th Airborne Infantry decided it would be nice for some of the boys to take a little vacation in Washington. They had no money in particular, though Paratroop soldiers get $50 and their officers $100 a month extra pay. But it takes more than lack of funds to stop a Paratrooper.

"HELD UP" BANK

No kidding, when these lads discovered they were short of money, they simply went to a bank in Fayetteville, N. C., and borrowed it. There was no fraud or deceit about the deal. Openly they declared they wanted the money to finance a binge in Washington, and in Fayetteville, N. C., there is a banker who lends thousands of dollars to Paratroopers who want to go on busts, with no more security than the signature of their captain. The captain, by the way, came along. Paratroopers are like that.

Forty-five soldiers signed up for the junket. They sent along as advance man Sgt. Technician W. E. Chapman, who arrived in Washington Saturday night and started to arrange things. From there on the rest of Washington's social whirl went into comparative slow motion, stopped colder than a stroboscopic freeze. Everywhere the 'troopers went they went doubletime. Going from one party to another in Georgetown Sunday night, they made a wrong turn and went two miles out of their way, but they arrived less than 15 minutes late, and with wonderful appetites for food and dancing that lasted till nearly midnight. Then they broke up into smaller private parties in various apartments around town.

It was like that all the time. The $1000 went farther than they thought it would, for everyone wanted to entertain them. Matrons recruited the best dates in town from the JANGLES, the Junior Army-Navy Guild League, made up of daughters of Army and Navy officers.

On Capitol Hill the Paratroopers dined in the Senate restaurant. If they wanted to see some particular senator from a home state, they said, "Send for him!" He came. The senators made flowery speeches which the boys applauded politely, but they weren't much impressed by the way Congress did business and they said so.

Eleanor Charmed Them

They saw all the sights—Supreme Court, Lincoln Memorial, and so on, ending up at the White House Tuesday morning. Only 18 of the 45 turned out on first call for the White House visit, but they ran there about four blocks from where they stayed two-in-a-$10-room. Stragglers swelled the number to over 40 but the last man messed the formation. That was Private Easton. He got to the White House front door but a footman there wouldn't let him in.

Mrs. Roosevelt charmed the soldiers into the closest they came to surrendering. Eleanor knew all about paratrooping, and she told the boys some things they didn't know about operations of another paratroop unit in Africa. One of the soldiers wondered if the president's wife had been there with 'em.

On the president's desk, one of the men left his silverwings, a Paratrooper's most treasured possession.

Only man who didn't run through all this was Technical Sgt. Chapman, who had sprained an ankle in landing after a

INCOME TAXES

Questions, Answers Prepared by Uncle Sam's Collectors

DEDUCTIONS FOR CONTRIBUTIONS (PART 2)

Contributions and gifts which are allowable deductions for Federal income tax purposes must be of a character falling within the limitations set by law. The law defines five categories of contributions which are allowable as deductions to individuals up to 15 per cent of the net income computed before the deduction is made:

(1) Contributions to or for the use of the United States or any of its political subdivisions or possessions, provided the contributions are to be used solely for public purposes, are deductible. If a contribution is for the benefit of the donor, however, and not for public purposes, such a contribution would not be deductible.

(2) Contributions made to a corporation, trust, community chest, fund, or foundation created or organized in the United States or any of its possessions or under the law of the United States or of any possession of the United States, no part of the earnings of which inures to the benefit of any individual, and no substantial part of the activities of which is attempting to influence legislation, and which contributions are operated exclusively for one or more of the following purposes: (a) charitable, (b) religious, (c) educational, (d) scientific, (e) prevention of cruelty to animals or children, are deductible.

(3) Contributions would include the Red Cross, Community Chests, the U. S. O., the British War Relief Society, Inc., and other war relief organizations if organized in the United States. Religious contributions would include all contributions and assessments paid to religious groups, including pew rents, and church "assessments" and "dues." Contributions for educational purposes would include those made to nonprofit schools and universities, Boy Scouts, the D. A. R., and like organizations, and other nonprofit educational organizations. Contributions to organizations for scientific purposes would include nonprofit research foundations and other nonprofit domestic organizations engaged in research.

(4) Contributions made to organizations of United States war veterans and auxiliaries are deductible if such organizations, units, or societies are organized in United States or any American possession, and if no part of the net earnings of the organization is for the benefit of any private shareholder or individual.

In addition, to contributions of the character indicated above, certain other contributions are allowable, as a business expense, to a taxpayer engaged in trade or business, if the contribution is in furtherance of his trade or business. Such contributions would include donations to a Chamber of Commerce or to trade associations, if such contributions are in general furtherance of one's trade or business, and are not for the purpose of influencing legislation.

A contribution may be made in money or property, but if in property, then the amount of the contribution is measured by the fair market value of the property at the time of the contribution.

In preparing a Federal income tax return the amount shown in item 12 for contributions must be supported by a schedule showing the names of the organizations to which the contributions were made and the amounts contributed.

FAME RATHER PETTY

Los Angeles —(AP)—George Petty, the man who draws those lightly clad girls for magazines and advertisers, has a joke on his alma mater, the Chicago Art Institute.

In a $30,000 survey of art in high schools, he says, the Rockefeller Foundation asked among other things, "Who is your favorite artist?" The winner was not one of the old masters but George Petty.

As a result, one of the Petty girls had to be hung in the institute in an exhibition giving results of the survey.

Homemakers In Defense

With a thorough knowledge of nutrition, which is available to every housewife, food may be purchased, menus planned and dishes fixed that not only taste good, but provide the body with all the food elements needed to maintain stamina and morale in these war time days. The object of the science of nutrition is to show mankind how to eat more intelligently. This revolution in eating habits does not date from the advent of the present war, but began many years ago in the experimental laboratories of renowned scientists.

There have always been popular superstitions about certain foods and food combinations which in this emergency should be corrected. A number of false ideas, inherited from our ancestors, include the following common superstitions about food, all of which have been proven wrong by leading nutritionists, namely it is dangerous to eat milk and fish at the same; don't drink water with your meals; use of aluminum pans will give you cancer; children need more heat-producing foods for cold days; we eat too many acid foods; it is dangerous to eat acid fruits and milk at the same meal fish and celery are brain foods; carrots make a girl's hair curl and spinach makes a boy grow strong; cherries and milk at the same meal will make you violently ill. Belief in these erroneous food facts can be costly both in health and in money.

Another enemy to the newer knowledge of nutrition is a food faddist. Some of these beliefs are that all foods must be served raw, others say that only certain classes of foods can be eaten at the same time and others talk about "health foods" referring to raw sugar, sea salt, olive oil and lemon juice, and some faddists even go so far as to say that these things are basic foods in the diet. No one food is a basic food as the human body requires many kinds of foods to make a balanced diet.

Because you have preferred certain foods and disliked others, it does not follow that you cannot enjoy and profit by new foods which have been prepared in different ways. The war, with priorities and transportation problems, will teach us that we can change our foods and food habits and still have plenty to eat. We will soon learn to substitute unfamiliar but nutritious foods for the old familiar foods. It is vitally important to remember that you can maintain a high standard of nutrition for you and your family, in spite of the fact that your standard of living may be otherwise lowered.

Recipe

1/2 pound pork liver.
Salt
2 tbs. shortening or bacon drippings
2 cups tomatoes
Flour
1 small onion chopped
2 cups cooked lima beans (serves 6)

1. Wash lima beans and soak a few hours or overnight. 2. Cook until tender in the water in which they were soaked without soda. 3. Slice liver in 1/2 inch slices and cut into 1 inch pieces. 4. Season and dredge with flour. 5. Brown onion in shortening add liver and brown lightly. 6. Add water and steam slowly 20 minutes uncovered sauce pan (more water may need to be added to keep the liver from burning.) 7. Add tomatoes and heat thoroughly. Serve over hot lima beans.

ENDS IN DAMAGE SUIT

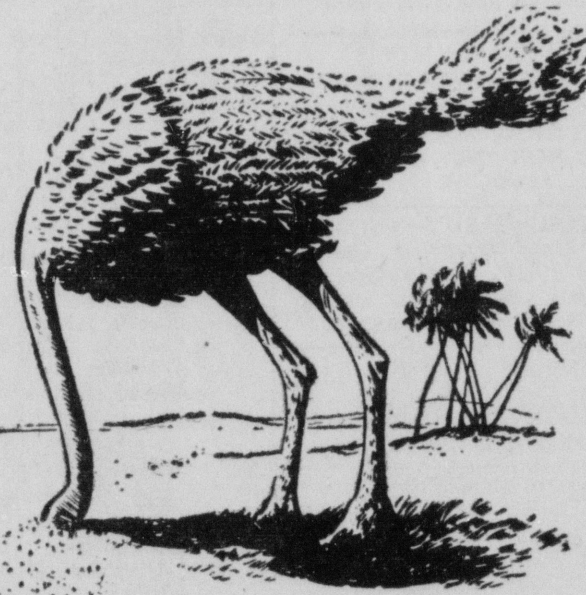

Los Angeles —(AP)—The unusual aviation incident of two planes interlocking in midair and landing piggyback has resulted in a $103,875 damage suit. It was filed by Robert P. Cabeen, III, who was in the lower plane as instructor, while both craft were piloted by students. Cabeen states he took over the controls and brought the two planes safely to earth but suffered severe injuries in the landing.

Berkeley, Calif.—(AP)—"Hashing," time-honored occupation by which college students worked for their meals, has all but vanished.

With well-paid defense jobs available, men students are not interested. Some sororities rotate their own members on a co-operative basis, one has put in cafeteria service and some omit one meal a day.

Stanford university had arranged to have eleven minor offenders paroled from the county jail to work in campus cafeterias. Then a university official forbade the experiment.
